JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY

Dear Alumni & Friends:

We extend a special invitation to join us aboard the exclusively chartered, Five-Star, Small Ship M.S. LE BORÉAL in the wake of the Celtic peoples who contributed immeasurably to the development and culture of Europe's civilizations. During this unique itinerary, admire the austere beauty of Scotland's Highlands and cruise among its misty, legend-haunted Hebridean and Orkney Islands. Follow in the footsteps of medieval and modern princes in North Wales and view treasures of rich Celtic heritage in Dublin before sailing the Irish and Celtic Seas to northern France and the beaches of Normandy.

Meet distinguished experts Dwight David Eisenhower II, University of Pennsylvania professor and grandson of General and President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Celia Sandys, Churchill historian and granddaughter of Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill. Joining us for a portion of the cruise, Ms. Sandys and Professor Eisenhower will lecture and share personal insights. Eisenhower will also accompany our visit to the hallowed beaches of Normandy, almost 70 years after Allied forces made their historic D-Day landings.

Experience the ancient legacy of the Celts and their enduring influence in the 21st century on exclusive guided tours. Explore cities, villages and islands that abound with the living Celtic heritage, calling at ports accessible only to a small ship. The Edinburgh Pre-Cruise Option and Paris Post-Cruise Option provide further enhancement to the itinerary.

This exclusive travel offering is not available to the general public. Capacity is limited, so I urge you to make your reservation early.

Cordially,

the LEGACY OF THE CELTS

The Celts, whose civilization spanned two thousand years, had no written history, no written language and no prevailing ethnic unity. They never built an empire nor founded a centralized state, yet at the height of their power, in the third century B.C., the Celts' domain extended from the Iberian Peninsula to the Black Sea and from the Mediterranean Sea to the North Sea. Today, the Celts are most associated with the heritage, cultural identity and national consciousness of Ireland, and their roots run deep in Wales, Scotland and Normandy, whose original languages were once Celtic dialects.

U.S./Edinburgh, Scotland

Thursday and Friday, May 9 and 10
Fly to Edinburgh, Scotland. On arrival, embark the ship. Sail tonight.

Kirkwall, Orkney Islands

Saturday, May 11
Explore the Orkney Islands' Neolithic monuments, a designated UNESCO World Heritage site. View the Ring of Brodgar, whose stone monoliths were raised more than 3500 years ago to chart the seasons. In Skara Brae, walk through a 5000-year-old settlement built entirely of stone—houses, hearths and furniture. Upon return to Kirkwall, an attractive coastal town of sturdy granite houses, visit the impressive, mid-12th-century St. Magnus Cathedral, the best-preserved medieval house of worship in Scotland, built of locally quarried red sandstone by the Orkneys' Norse rulers.

This evening, attend the Captain's Welcome Reception and dinner.

Portree, Isle of Skye

Sunday, May 12

This morning, cruise the Sound of Raasay, viewing Trotternish Peninsula's craggy rock formations and rolling green moorland.

Skye, dubbed "the Winged Island" after its birdlike shape, is the largest and most scenic of the Inner Hebrides. Visit Dunvegan Castle, the seat of the powerful Clan MacLeod since 1270, built atop a rocky promontory overlooking the sea. Tour Dunvegan's richly appointed public rooms and view the Fairy Flag, a silken banner that legend claims to have had the power to save the clan from defeat on three occasions. View the castle's lush gardens, ablaze with azaleas and rhododendrons. Return to Portree by way of the island's western shore and across its starkly beautiful interior land of rolling green moors laced with clear, rushing streams, set against the rugged profile of the Cuillin Hills.

Tobermory, Isle of Mull/ Isle of Iona

Monday, May 13

Go ashore in the sheltered port of Tobermory, where vividly painted houses are nestled between the hills and the harbor. After free time, visit the 13th-century Duart Castle, the ancestral home of the Clan Maclean. Lunch will be provided at the castle.

Cover: Duart Castle on the Isle of Mull, built in the 13th century, is the seat of Scotland's Clan Maclean.

Then, cross the Sound of Iona to the neighboring Hebridean Isle of Iona, birthplace of Scottish Christianity. In A.D. 563, the Irish monk Columba founded a monastery here, where scribes would spend their entire lives painstakingly copying and illuminating religious tracts and transcribing ancient Celtic sagas into written form, preserving a record of oral bardic tradition. In later years, Iona became the burial place of Scotland's kings, including Duncan and Macbeth. At the Abbey, see the churchyard's intricate Celtic crosses and stroll through the serene, restored monastery. Reboard the ship and depart for Holyhead.

Skye's rolling moors have captivated generations of visitors to Scotland's Inner Hebrides.

Holyhead, Wales/Caernarfon Castle

Tuesday, May 14

From Holyhead, travel across the Isle of Anglesey and over the Menai Strait. Here, in North Wales, one of the cradles of Celtic culture, the people hold fast to the old ways, and Welsh remains their mother tongue.

Explore Edward I's impressive Caernarfon Castle, one of 13th-century fortresses across North Wales.

Visit beautiful Bodnant Garden, one of the finest examples of 19th-century Victorian landscape artistry. Enjoy lunch in a local restaurant and listen to a stirring private choir performance of Welsh hymns. Visit the imposing Caernarfon Castle, an impregnable 13th-century fortress built by Edward I of England as a defense against the marauding Welsh. Heirs to the British throne have been invested with the title of "Prince of Wales" at Caernarfon since 1301, including the investiture of Charles as Prince of Wales by his mother, Queen Elizabeth II, in 1969.

En route to the ship, view the beautiful, glacier-sculpted peaks and valleys of the Snowdonia Mountains in the distance.

Dublin, Ireland

Wednesday, May 15

Built astride the River Liffey, Ireland's historic capital has retained its rich heritage of Georgian architecture while confidently playing a major role in the New Europe. Enjoy an overview tour of the city; stroll through the stately quadrangles of Trinity College and view the incandescent illuminations of the ninth-century Book of Kells; visit the 13th-century St. Patrick's Cathedral of Ireland, where it is said that St. Patrick baptized converts to Christianity.

The afternoon is at leisure. Walk along colorful Grafton Street, savor a pint of Guinness in a typical neighborhood pub or visit the treasures of Celtic heritage in the National Museum of Ireland. Depart this evening.

Cruising the Irish and Celtic Seas/English Channel

Thursday, May 16

This evening, Professor Eisenhower shares captivating details about his grandfather, whose leadership reshaped the world, mightiest link in his Iron Ring

The American Military Cemetery at St. Laurent, France, honors the soldiers who made the ultimate sacrifice during the D-Day Landings.

and provides fascinating insight on the worldwide ramifications of Operation Overlord, the Allies' code name for the World War II military campaign that launched the D-Day airborne and amphibious assault on Normandy nearly 70 years ago.

The Long Room of Trinity College's Old Library showcases 200,000 of the library's oldest books, with the Book of Kells on display in the adjacent Treasury.

Caen/Normandy Beaches Friday, May 17

From Caen, travel through the scenic countryside to the historic Normandy beaches. In the company of David Eisenhower, walk where Allied forces landed at the direction of his prominent grandfather, on June 6, 1944, and visit the American Military Cemetery at St. Laurent, overlooking Omaha Beach. Envision the brave American rangers who scaled 200-foot heights to capture German gun emplacements at Pointe du Hoc.

Later, see remnants of Mulberry Harbor, constructed to support Allied landings at Gold Beach. You may choose to see the the D-Day Museum or the famous 230-foot-long Bayeux Tapestry, a stunning visual chronicle of the Norman conquest of 1066.

This evening, attend the Captain's Farewell Reception.
