VOYAGE OF DISCOVERY:

Wonders of the Galápagos Islands

aboard the M.V. SANTA CRUZ

January 11 to 19, 2013

with

Photographer Phyllis Berger

JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY

Dear Alumni & Friends:

“The natural history of this archipelago is very remarkable ... the greater number of its inhabitants, both vegetable and animal, being found nowhere else.”

Charles Darwin’s keen, yet simple, observation of the Galápagos Islands made famous this “living laboratory of evolution.” Today, 95 percent of its natural biodiversity is still intact, and this UNESCO World Heritage site is home to the amazing exotic birds, animals and plants that inspired Darwin and continues to offer the excitement of original discovery to every visitor today.

Join us for an incredible journey aboard the state-of-the-art exploration vessel M.V. SANTA CRUZ. Designed specifically to navigate the Galápagos Islands, it is fully equipped with everything necessary to make your Galápagos experience complete, from complimentary snorkeling gear to a fleet of Zodiacs and a glass-bottom Boston Whaler. The highly-qualified, certified naturalists share their knowledge to enhance your understanding and enjoyment of this natural realm.

These 19 islands, each with its own ecosystem, are teeming with flora and fauna and species unknown elsewhere in the world, like the flightless cormorant and the marine iguana. With few natural predators on the islands, the abundant wildlife is nearly fearless and innocently receptive to human company up-close, unlike any other place on our planet!

On mainland Ecuador, explore the magnificent colonial churches of Quito and choose an optional excursion to visit the colorful Andean market of Otavalo.

To complement your Galápagos Islands cruise, we are pleased to offer an exclusive Post-Tour Option to experience the marvels of the legendary “lost city” of Machu Picchu and the breathtaking Sacred Valley.

Space is limited, so I encourage you to make your reservations while Early Booking Savings are available, through July 16, 2012.

Cordially,

The enigma of the Galápagos Islands

“The Archipelago is a little world within itself...”
— Charles Darwin, The Voyage of the Beagle

Amazingly, this remote volcanic archipelago, consisting of 19 islands and 42 islets located 600 miles off the coast of Ecuador, inspired one of the most revolutionary theories in the history of science. Formed millions of years ago by volcanic eruptions, these islands’ dramatic landscapes now make a safe home for the quirky finches and primeval iguanas that inspired Charles Darwin’s theory of natural selection and evolution, which he presented in On The Origin of Species in 1859.

Scientists theorize that most Galápagos species originally floated to the islands from the mainland or were transported by birds or deposited by whalers and buccaneers. Others, like penguins and sea lions, probably arrived by way of the Humboldt Current, a cold stream of ocean water flowing from the southern coast of Chile. This current makes the Galápagos the world’s only tropical region to support such species.

Darwin noted that life in the Galápagos Islands comprises mostly “aboriginal creations, found nowhere else,” which led him to hypothesize that the islands’ species survived by evolving over time independently from their continental cousins. Because natural predators failed to survive—possibly due to the lack of fresh water, which deterred even permanent human settlement until the 20th century—its bevy of birds and animals was able to thrive and adapt in a manner not possible in other habitats. This also explains why Galápagos species never developed a sense of fear and allow the up-close viewing by humans that makes the experience of visiting the islands so thrilling and unique.

U.S./Quito, Ecuador Friday, Day 1

Fly to Quito and transfer to the superior first-class HILTON COLÓN HOTEL, ideally located near one of the city’s colorful markets. Surrounded by snow-capped peaks, yet only miles from the equator, the city is known for its magnificent Spanish colonial architecture and lively street life.

Quito Saturday, Day 2

Quito is a city of startling contrasts where thousands of years of native South American tradition are interwoven with imported Catholicism, the Spanish language and European culture. Quaint family-owned shops and open-air markets are steps away from gleaming skyscrapers and ornate Spanish Baroque-style cathedrals favored by the Conquistadors. On the city tour, visit the Museo Nacional del Banco Central's Archaeological Gallery and Golden Court and the noble, 16th-century Church of San Francisco. Continue to the heart of Quito, a UNESCO World Heritage site, and see the Moorish-influenced Catedral Metropolitana and La Compañía de Jesus, renowned for its lavish interiors decorated with an estimated seven tons of gold leaf.

This evening, attend a private Welcome Reception in the hotel.

Quito (Otavalo/Peguche) Sunday, Day 3

Spend the day at leisure in Quito or join an optional excursion* to the ancient town of Otavalo, acclaimed for its finely woven sheep and alpaca wool. Walk through the main square to see San Luis Church and the bustling fruit and vegetable market.

Continue to Otavalo's legendary "silent market," where merchants bargain quietly with customers in a colorful labyrinth of stalls and shops overflowing with beautifully crafted tapestries and clothing.

Stop in the village of Peguche to see artisans engaged in the textile crafts of their ancestors. Afterwards, enjoy a private lunch in a beautifully restored 17th-century Andean estate.

Quito/Baltra, Galápagos Islands/Santa Cruz Monday, Day 4

Fly to the small Galápagos island of Baltra. Embark the M.V. SANTA CRUZ in time for lunch, followed by your first briefing by the ship's naturalists.

Santa Cruz Island's alluring white beaches, giant prickly pear cactus forests, vibrantly colored flamingos and prehistoric-looking iguanas make it an ideal introduction to the archipelago. Cruise aboard Zodiacs along beautiful mangrove-lined islets and seek out blue and red-footed boobies, great frigate birds and brown pelicans. Make a landing in the surf at Las Bachas Beach, and explore a small lagoon favored by elegant wading birds, including black-necked stilts and golden eagles.

Please note that the M.V. SANTA CRUZ's specific itinerary and cruise pattern is dependent on weather, sea conditions and Galápagos National Park Service regulations.

Santiago Tuesday, Day 5

Enjoy the scenic beauty of Santiago Island's Buccaneer Cove surrounded by dramatic volcanic cliffs where hundreds of sea birds perch.

Take the photographs of a lifetime during up-close wildlife encounters in the Galápagos.

On Bartolomé Island, see the famous Pinnacle Rock and watch reef sharks and skates swimming in the crystal clear water.

Look for the unusual mating “dance” of the magnificent frigate birds, one of the Galápagos Islands’ hallmark species.

Go ashore for a closer look at wildlife, much like the British pirates, sailors and whalers who used this protected harbor as a safe haven did in the 18th and 19th centuries while making repairs and gathering salt, fresh water and firewood.

Later, in Puerto Egas at low tide, walk beside the best tide pools in the Galápagos. Look for land iguanas and marine iguanas—the world’s only seagoing iguanas—grazing on algae beds along the rocky shore formed by ancient lava flows. Nearby, observe fur seals and sea lions swimming in the grotto’s turquoise pools.

Rábida/Bartolomé Wednesday, Day 6

Make a wet landing on the mesmerizing red sands of Rábida Island. Walk along the beach among sea lions and marine iguanas and see a variety of birds, including mockingbirds, yellow warblers and nine species of Darwin’s legendary finches. Continue inland to the island’s unique saltwater pond to search for its famous bright pink flamingos.

This afternoon, make a dry landing on the tiny isle of Bartolomé. From the top of Cerro Bartolomé enjoy unsurpassed views of lunar-like craters, mangroves and lava formations. Particularly impressive is Pinnacle Rock, a jagged tower of honeycombed stone that soars 225 feet into the air. Below, the island’s pristine beaches and sparkling clear water are ideal for swimming and watching the antics of tropical penguins. Also, look for dolphins, manta rays and an abundance of colorful sea creatures from the comfort of a glass-bottom boat.

Genovesa Thursday, Day 7

The remote northern island of Genovesa offers some of the best bird-watching in the archipelago and is home to the world’s largest colony of red-footed boobies. Following a dry landing at Prince Phillip’s Steps, take a guided walk up to a broad lava flow overlooking the sea where the masked faces of Nazca boobies greet you at the top of the cliff, and flurries of tiny storm petrels swirl above.

Cruise into Darwin Bay, inhabited by fur seals, hammerhead sharks and swallow-tailed gulls, and make a wet landing for a more leisurely stroll on a coral beach. Among the prickly pear cacti, saltbush and red mangroves, look for magnificent frigate birds, yellow-crowned night herons and four types of Darwin’s finches. Attend the Farewell Reception this evening.

San Cristóbal/ Guayaquil, Ecuador Friday, Day 8

Arrive this morning at San Cristóbal, the first Galápagos island Darwin landed on in 1835, and view the giant tortoises at the Cerro Colorado breeding station. These remarkable creatures are the largest tortoises in the world, reaching weights of up to 900 pounds.

In 1570, the islands were named “galápagos,” meaning tortoise, based on sailors’ descriptions of their inhabitants.

Then fly to Guayaquil, a favored haven for English and Dutch buccaneers in the 17th and 18th centuries. See the historic markets; visit famous Bolivar Park, where playful iguanas scamper through its grounds; and stroll the scenic promenade overlooking the Guayas River. Check into the deluxe HILTON COLÓN HOTEL. Later tonight, transfer to the airport for your return flight to the U.S., or spend the night to continue on the Machu Picchu Post-Tour Option.*

Guayaquil/U.S. Saturday, Day 9

Arrive in the U.S.

The Post-Tour Option and Optional Excursion are at additional cost. Details will be provided with your reservation confirmation.*

Machu Picchu and the Sacred Valley Post-Tour Option*

Enjoy a once-in-a-lifetime experience featuring Machu Picchu, the “Lost City of the Incas,” the Incan and colonial traditions of Cuzco, and the lush Sacred Valley.

Located high in the Peruvian Andes, Machu Picchu was obscured from humankind for 400 years until Yale Professor Hiram Bingham literally stumbled upon it in 1911. A century of extensive research and study still has not revealed the secrets of its purpose, its residents or its abandonment; nevertheless, this UNESCO World Heritage site has been carefully excavated and preserved.

The rushing Urubamba River flows through the beautiful Sacred Valley, where ancient engineering marvels, such as the fortress of Ollantaytambo, stand as lasting testimony to the powerful and far-reaching Inca empire. Here, village craftsmen employ age-old techniques to weave intricate tapestries and sculpt colorful pottery.

In the historic Incan capital of Cuzco, a UNESCO World Heritage site, the Incan stone fortress of Sacsayhuamán and grand Baroque- and Renaissance-style churches provide a fascinating mix of pre-Columbian and colonial influences.
