A VOYAGE FROM MONTREAL TO NEW ENGLAND

Discovering Historic Towns
& Scenic Waterways

Aboard the 130-Guest Yorktown

September 30 – October 12, 2013

 Celebrating Fall Foliage

Dear Alumni and Friends,

The waterways of eastern Canada and northern New England are among the loveliest, the most dramatic in the world. The rock-bound coast, the soaring cliffs, the idyllic waterfront villages have drawn visitors for more than one hundred years. Now you can experience this tranquil, picturesque stretch of coastline in the manner in which it was meant to be seen—from the deck of a handsome small ship.

In fact, this itinerary could not be easily replicated as a land journey. The distances between all the destinations we have included are too long. Furthermore, if arriving by land you would miss entirely the excitement of sailing into Bar Harbor, of cruising around Perce Rock and Ile Bonaventure, of making the majestic voyage up the Saguenay Fjord.

There is another factor that makes this voyage distinctive: we call at destinations that you'll rarely, if ever, see on Canadian and New England cruise itineraries. Caraquet, New Brunswick, for example, is the oldest Acadian village in Canada, founded in 1757. Its restored Village Historique Acadien recreates the life of the French Acadian colonists who lived here until they were driven out by English troops after the French and Indian War. And then there is Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, whose Old Town, founded in 1753, has been designated a UNESCO World Heritage site. It is the best surviving example of a planned British colonial settlement in North America and boasts wonderfully preserved architecture dating to the 18th century.

Leading the educational program will be distinguished military historian and strategist Eliot Cohen, the Robert E. Osgood Professor of Strategic Studies at Johns Hopkins. Also providing lectures and commentary will be maritime historian Donald Shomette (two-time winner of the prestigious John Lyman Book Award for Best American Maritime History) and naturalist and bird expert Miles Hearn.

This is a voyage filled with unforgettable moments. Cruising by the picturesque lighthouses of Maine and Nova Scotia. Waiting for a humpback whale to breach the waters of the Saguenay River. Docking beneath the towers and steeples and battlements of Quebec. Join fellow Johns Hopkins travelers as well as those from Duke and other groups aboard Yorktown to discover for yourself the delightful historic towns and majestic scenery that lie along the waterways of eastern Canada and New England.

Sincerely,

Yorktown

Yorktown is the perfect vessel for relaxed and convivial exploration. Built in Florida in 1988 specifically for coastal cruising, Yorktown flies the American flag and is staffed by friendly and experienced American officers and crew. With a draft of only 9 feet, it is able to maneuver in secluded waterways and visit small ports that are inaccessible to larger vessels. And Yorktown's American registry makes it possible to operate domestic itineraries unavailable to foreign-flag ships. The ship's cuisine, served in a dining room large enough to accommodate all guests at once, emphasizes American regional culinary traditions.

Life aboard Yorktown

Life aboard Yorktown is relaxed and informal, and dress is always casual. Guests discover soon after settling in that the ship's design fosters a sense of community and shared enterprise. Most cabins have large picture windows, and each is furnished with comfortable beds, a writing desk, ample storage, a clock/radio/CD player, and has a private bathroom. But you will want to spend most of your time in one of Yorktown's inviting common areas. The Lounge, never more than two decks away (Yorktown has no elevator), is the hub of shipboard activity—the place to read, to converse with fellow travelers, to attend lectures and concerts, to enjoy a cocktail as the pianist performs on the ship's Steinway piano, or simply to enjoy the passing scene. The Sun Deck affords similar opportunities to read and relax in the open air.
