TANZANIA SAFARI

during
THE GREAT MIGRATION

with Professor Steven David

January 13 to 23, 2014

JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY

Dear Alumni & Friends:

Travel with us on this journey of a lifetime into the majestic natural wonder that is Tanzania, Africa's most authentic safari destination, to see the ancient phenomenon of the extraordinary Great Migration, one of Earth's greatest natural spectacles. Here, cycles of rain and renewal dictate the foraging patterns of over one million wildebeest, 500,000 zebra and vast herds of Thomson's gazelle and Cape buffalo that instinctively gather and migrate in pursuit of food and water while stalked by the magnificent carnivores—lion, cheetah and leopard.

Rivaling the grandeur of Tanzania's wildlife is the panoramic sweep of its scenery. To the north, see the snow-crowned summit of Kilimanjaro, Africa's loftiest peak; from Lake Manyara, view the stark beauty of the Great Rift Valley; and amid the expansive grasslands of the Serengeti, enjoy unrestricted vistas in every direction. By way of a four-wheel-drive vehicle, descend into the Ngorongoro Crater, a unique conservation area enclosed by the sheer 2000-foot-high walls of an ancient caldera.

Our comprehensive itinerary offers ample game viewing opportunities by including three nights in the heart of the Serengeti National Park and the Ngorongoro Crater in Serena Lodges, carefully selected providers of the finest in safari lodging for over 40 years and ideally located near the wildlife. To enhance your experience, a qualified safari guide accompanies you on game drives and shares insight into Tanzania's wildlife and the environments it inhabits.

We are pleased to have Steven R. David join us as a special guest lecturer on the program.

Steven R. David is a professor of International Relations and Vice Dean for Undergraduate Education at Johns Hopkins University. David specializes on the impact of developing nations on global politics and American interests. For the trip to Tanzania, David will give a series of lectures examining the role of Africa as it confronts the challenges of the 21st century. Globalization, terrorism, the environment, ethnic conflict, and the prospects for a better life in the "new" Africa will all be discussed in formal lectures and in long ranging conversations. This trip will be a homecoming of sorts for Professor David, who first went to Tanzania as a Watson Fellow in 1972. David has been at Johns Hopkins for over thirty years and has won the Alumni Award for Teaching Excellence three times. He is married to Maureen, and has three daughters, Sarah (A&S '07), Julia (Nurs '13) and Katie.

Come join us on this unique safari to Tanzania including game drives in three magnificent game parks, accommodations in award-winning safari lodges and most meals. We encourage you to book now while Early Booking Savings are available as space is limited and usually sells out quickly.

NATURE'S PAGEANT ON THE SERENGETI PLAINS

A UNESCO World Heritage Site

Tanzania's Serengeti—the “endless plains” of the Maasai warriors and herdsman who have roamed its trackless grasslands for centuries—forms the heart of a unique ecosystem that encompasses the neighboring Ngorongoro Conservation Area and Kenya's Maasai Mara National Reserve. Within its 5400 square miles, the Serengeti's abundant diversity of natural habitats—short-and tall-grass savannas, acacia woodlands, forests alongside rivers and wetlands—provide sanctuary for the greatest variety and number of game animals on Earth.

The key to the vitality of the Serengeti lies in the seasonal migrations of its wildlife in a rhythmic cycle triggered by the masika (long rains) and mvuli (short rains) between the Serengeti and the Maasai Mara. Each year, by November, the Serengeti's savannas have been replenished with a fresh growth of succulent grasses and herbs; and more than one million wildebeest and countless zebra, gazelle and other grazing animals begin yet another southerly 250-mile-long trek from the Maasai Mara to the Serengeti, returning just in time for the January and February calving season, the prime time to view the herds in Tanzania. Commencing in May, at the end of the mating season, the cycle reverses as a new generation of these incredible herds trek back north toward the Maasai Mara, repeating nature's pageant of migration and birth.

Cover photo: Observe the regal magnificence of the African lion from a perspective unlike any other.

The herbivorous wildebeest, an antelope, comprises the largest mammal migration in the world.

Day 1

Depart for Tanzania.

Arusha, Tanzania

Day 2

Arrive in Kilimanjaro International Airport near Arusha, a city nestled at the foot of Mount Meru, gateway to Tanzania's major national game parks. Meet your Travel Director and transfer to the deluxe SERENA MOUNTAIN VILLAGE LODGE, uniquely built in the traditional style of a colonial coffee farm amid verdant coffee plantations near the shore of picturesque Lake Duluti. The lodge offers scenic views of the verdant slopes of Mount Meru and of legendary Mount Kilimanjaro, Africa's tallest mountain.

Arusha/Lake Manyara

Day 3

Enjoy a scenic transfer across the sweeping African plains to Lake Manyara

In the heart of the African wilderness, surprising photo opportunities occur as you explore the expansive grasslands of the Serengeti.

National Park this afternoon. On arrival, check into the LAKE MANYARA SERENA LODGE.

Join your fellow participants this evening for a Welcome Reception at the lodge.

Lake Manyara/ Serengeti National Park

Day 4

After daybreak, drive through Lake Manyara National Park in search of the great populations of hippopotamus and brilliantly hued flamingo found in pools along the lake's shoreline. Watch for troupes of baboon and blue monkey scampering along tree branches of the groundwater forest. You are likely to see Cape buffalo, wildebeest and giraffe on the grassy floodplain. Watch for tusked elephant and Lake Manyara's most famous inhabitant, the lion, who likes to climb and languidly lie draped over the branches of the acacia tree.

View migrating zebra and wildebeest up close from your safari vehicle on game excursions led by expert guides.

On the edge of the Great Rift Valley, see firsthand the educational system in Tanzania during a stop at Kibaoni Primary School. Visit with local schoolchildren and see the school's library—the only primary school library in Tanzania where most books were donated by visitors.

The black rhinoceros shares a symbiotic relationship with other creatures of the Ngorongoro Crater.

After lunch, continue on to the legendary Serengeti National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage site. On your game drive, watch for the diverse and abundant fauna of this vast ecosystem, including Thompson's gazelle, giraffe, cheetah and leopard. Check into the SERENGETI SERENA LODGE, located inside the park and selected for its proximity to the park's largest year-round concentration of wildlife.

Serengeti National Park Day 5 and Day 6

One of the most spectacular moments you can experience in nature is to be surrounded by the great herds of wildebeest, gazelle, topi, zebra and Cape buffalo, part of more than two million animals inhabiting a mere 5400 square miles of savannas and woodlands.

Explore the trackless grasslands that support this abundance of grazing animals during morning and afternoon game safaris. Look for granite kopjes (outcrops) dotting the plains, which are favored by large cats, especially the lion and the leopard. Experience world-class bird-watching of more than 500 species in the expansive swampland, which attracts thousands of waterbirds.

Observe a phenomenal aerial perspective of the Serengeti's plains during an early morning hot-air balloon flight option, if weather conditions permit.

Serengeti/Olduvai Gorge/ Ngorongoro Crater Day 7

Following a morning game drive and a picnic lunch, depart the Serengeti and travel to Olduvai Gorge, famously known as the "cradle of mankind." Here, in 1963, Dr. Louis Leakey made his important discovery of the 1.8-million-year-old Homo habilis. In 1959, Mary Leakey discovered the skull of Zinjanthropus, an early hominid that proved invaluable to the study of human ancestry. Enjoy a discussion by a local expert on Olduvai Gorge.

Continue to Ngorongoro Crater, a remarkable sanctuary for hundreds of mammal and bird species.

Check into the NGORONGORO SERENA LODGE, scenically located on the rim of the crater, where each room offers stunning views of nature and wildlife.

Ngorongoro Crater Day 8

Early in the morning, board a four-wheel-drive vehicle and descend 2000 feet down to the floor of Ngorongoro Crater, a UNESCO World Heritage site, for a morning of game tracking.

Across the savannas of Tarangire National Park, families of elephant seek out the shade of the majestic baobab tree, called the Tree of Life for its ability to provide shelter, food and water.

Born from the collapse of a massive volcano over two million years ago, the crater shelters an immense year-round concentration of incredible wildlife. The profusion of game reflects the diversity of the habitats found on the crater floor: savannas, forests, swamps, salt pans and a freshwater lake. With abundant grass and a permanent water supply, the crater supports herds of grazing animals that, in turn, attract lion, leopard and cheetah.

View zebra, wildebeest, gazelle, Cape buffalo, lion, cheetah, leopard and bull elephant, and watch for the rare black rhinoceros. In the Ngoitokitok Swamps, look for hippopotamus seeking refuge from the midday sun. Observe the numerous species of birds that find a home in the crater, including ostrich, crowned crane, flamingo and other waders, which make this one of the most unique places on Earth.

Return to the lodge for the afternoon at leisure. View the crater and its abundant wildlife from your lodge's viewing terrace, perched on the crater's rim.

Ngorongoro Crater

Day 9

Following an early morning picnic breakfast, game drive and lunch, experience a cultural exchange in a typical Maasai village with exuberant Tanzanians in colorful, traditional garments. These tribal people have held fast to their ancestral ways, centered around their cattle, which provide them with sustenance and clothing and shape their cultural values.

Ngorongoro Crater/Arusha

Day 10

After breakfast, depart for Arusha. Enjoy lunch at Arusha Coffee Plantation Lodge and return to the deluxe SERENA MOUNTAIN VILLAGE LODGE, where day rooms have been reserved. After dinner on your own, transfer to the airport and board your return flight.

U.S.

Day 11

Return flight to the U.S. arrives later today.

Cape buffalo, one of Africa's "Big Five," thrive in most grassland habitats located within 12 miles of a watering hole, which is central to the complex ecosystem of Tanzania's wildlife.
