CANTERBURY POST-PROGRAM OPTION

Minster Lovell

One of the prettiest of the Oxfordshire villages, Minster Lovell lies on the sleepy River Windrush with thatched cottages arranged along the quiet lanes. Set in the heart of Oxfordshire the tiny village gives a sense of timeless calm and is distinguished by the 15th-century church of St. Kenelm and the romantic ruined manor house dating from 1435. Since the 12th century, the lands of the manor house belonged to the Lovell family, who fought in the Wars of the Roses, and with Richard III at the battle of Bosworth, after which Francis Lovell was declared guilty of treason and his lands reverted to the Crown.

Cotswold Villages

Stow-on-the-Wold is a delightful market town along the ancient Roman Fosse Way, the first great Roman road in Britain. This picturesque market town was designed around the market square during the height of the English wool industry with narrow-walled avenues, called tunes, to funnel up to 20,000 sheep to the market.

Romantic gardens and classic stone houses are just two English traditions that live on in the Cotswolds, a bastion of beauty, history and culture.

PBS's MASTERPIECE series Downton Abbey portrays Church Gate House as the home of Lady Crawley.

Chipping Campden is a prosperous medieval village with a picturesque 15th-century Gothic parish church, 17th-century almshouses and market hall, and wool-tycoon manors.

Simply beautiful, Broadway, was first settled by the Romans and is often referred to as the “jewel of the Cotswolds.” The home of William Morris, its main road is lined with honey-colored limestone townhouses dating back to the 16th century.

The acclaimed international television series Downton Abbey, seen on PBS's MASTERPIECE, is filmed in Bampton, one of the oldest towns in England. First established during the Iron Age, with later markings as the site of an extensive unwallled Roman settlement, the picturesque town is also mentioned in the Domesday Book of 1086.

In Burford, the great Church of St. John the Baptist is a medley of architectural styles providing a flourish to the village's main passage down to the River Windrush.

“Downton Abbey” (Highclere Castle)

This spectacular Victorian castle is well known for its role as the manor in the acclaimed international television series, Downton Abbey, airing on PBS's MASTERPIECE. Set amidst 1,000 acres of spectacular parkland, the television series only captures a fraction of this impressive, Edwardian-period property. Discover the true history behind this newly iconized structure, where the Carnarvon family has lived since 1679, when they built upon the foundation of a medieval palace owned by the Bishops of Winchester for some 800 years.

Blenheim Palace

This monumental baroque fantasy is one of the country's greatest stately homes, designed between 1705 and 1722, with funds given to Sir John Churchill, Duke of Marlborough, by a grateful Queen Anne, after his victory at the battle of Blenheim. Now a UNESCO World Heritage site, and the current Duke of Marlborough's home—it is the largest private residence in England, with an extraordinary labyrinth of opulent hallways and chambers.

It is also the legendary birthplace of Sir Winston Churchill. Blenheim's 2,100-acre parkland and gardens were designed by the legendary English landscape architect, “Capability” Brown. Meet your host, Lord Charles Spencer-Churchill, who will give you a personal introduction to his family home.

Oxford

Affectionately named the “city of dreaming spires,” by adoring poets, Britain's oldest university counts Percy Bysshe Shelley, Margaret Thatcher, and Sir Thomas More among its illustrious alumni. Steeped in eight centuries of history and erudition, Oxford still nurtures great scholars while blending its ancient traditions with cutting-edge research and instruction provided by many of the world's brightest minds. Here, Formal Hall, a dining hall tradition requiring formal attire or college gowns, is still celebrated with a three-course meal and waiter service. Magnificent cobblestoned squares, medieval alleyways and Renaissance quadrangles fill the grounds of the oldest university in the English-speaking world.

The soaring Great Hall in Christ Church College is one of the oldest and most beautiful dining halls at Oxford.

OLD SWAN & MINSTER MILL

Tucked away in a historic corner of the Cotswolds and ideally located at the heart of the Old Minster village and with a history going back almost 600 years, the intimate OLD SWAN & MINSTER MILL are both quintessentially English and capture the charm of bygone years and the romance of the countryside with all the modern conveniences of fine hotels. Enjoy the pristine gardens and calmly flowing river on the property. Featuring a gastro-pub inspired dining room, bar and Wi-Fi, this quaint country inn is an ideal “home” from which to explore the English Countryside.

OXFORD SPIRES FOUR PILLARS

Nestled among acres of beautiful riverside parkland, OXFORD SPIRES FOUR PILLARS HOTEL offers an idyllic location to enjoy the city, take in punting along the River Thames, or stroll the quadrangles of the spectacular university. Each room has all the modern amenities of a fine hotel.

The inviting restaurant serves imaginative, contemporary dishes prepared by an expert chef. The hotel features Wi-Fi, an indoor pool, sauna, steam room and full-service spa.

Jane Austen’s England

Austen belonged to the transition from the 18th century’s emphasis on sense, reason and improvement, to the 19th century’s emphasis on sensibility and romantic excitement. On this full-day optional excursion, see the church in Steventon where the author’s father ministered when she was born; the Jane Austen Museum in Chawton, where she spent the last eight years of her life; and the cathedral in Winchester, where she is buried. Each site offers glimpses of the iconic writer’s life and the times she captured in her writings.

Cambridge Pre-Program Option

Experience a second prestigious university town while walking in the pristine quad and along the sculpture-lined corridors of Cambridge and visiting the famed King’s College Chapel. Tour Bletchley Park, the secret World War II intelligence site where the British deciphered the German code, which was especially crucial to the war effort. Accommodations for three nights are in a comfortable, centrally located hotel.

Canterbury Post-Program Option

Made famous in Chaucer’s Canterbury Tales, Canterbury’s history and heritage is immortalized in the medieval pilgrimage site of the magnificent Canterbury Cathedral, a UNESCO World Heritage site, founded in 597 AD. Visit Sir Winston Churchill’s home at Chartwell and Down House, the home of Charles Darwin. See the stunning White Cliffs of Dover and explore the secret underground tunnels of the Dover Castle.
