The Way to Santiago
A Walking Tour in Northern Spain
May 11–23, 2018
Dear Johns Hopkins Alumni, Parents, and Friends,

For more than a thousand years, pilgrims have walked the Way of St. James, seeking enlightenment and adventure. Their destination was Santiago de Compostela, Spain, the city named for St. James and where he is believed to be buried.

We invite you to follow the Camino de Santiago next spring, on selective hikes along the most interesting sections of this celebrated walking trail. Follow ancient roads marked by scallop shells—the symbol of St. James—through medieval villages and lovely scenery, and enjoy exquisite cuisine, regional wines, and awe-inspiring architecture along the way. Daily walks average three and a half miles.

In Pamplona, take a walking tour of the Old Quarter, location of the Running of the Bulls. Drive to Roncesvalles for your first walk on the Camino, to the picturesque Basque village of Espinal. Savor regional vintages in medieval Laguardia, capital of the Rioja Alavesa wine region, and visit the lively university city of Logroño. South of Burgos, hear Gregorian chants performed by the monks of Santo Domingo de Silos and marvel at the 700-year-old Codex Las Huelgas. Admire unique buildings by Gaudí in León and Astorga before concluding in Santiago de Compostela to witness the famous incense-burning ritual at the cathedral and watch the sun set over Cape Finisterre, once thought to be “the end of the Earth.”

Space on this program is limited, so we urge you to contact us as soon as possible. We look forward to welcoming you in northern Spain on this unique program, co-sponsored with the alumni association of Vanderbilt University.

Sincerely,

Marguerite Jones, A&S ’74, Bus ’88
