July 21 to 29, 2010

RESERVE BY DECEMBER 24, 2009
SAVE $1000 PER COUPLE
Dear Alumni & Friends:

Step into a land of contrasts, where glittering glaciers rest atop simmering volcanoes, where ancient Viking ruins exist alongside the latest in geothermal technology, and where night and day meld during summer nights of midnight sun. This is Iceland, a rugged, beautiful and everchanging landscape that serves as a testament to the powerful forces that shape our planet.

Join this rare opportunity to see Iceland’s extraordinary landscape of fire and ice. During this specially designed seven-night cruise, encounter Iceland’s wondrous sights at close range: abundant wildlife, world-renowned geological marvels and ancient cultural traditions. Discover a naturalist’s paradise, home to colonies of puffins and auks, lush mosses and marshes, and pods of minke and humpback whales that feed along this island nation’s dramatic coastline. You will cross into the Arctic Circle, where this paradoxical frontier averages a surprising 60º Fahrenheit in the summer, perfect for exploring this seldom-seen land. From towering fjords to spouting geysers and undulating lava fields, see unimaginable views that exist nowhere else on Earth. In addition, you will learn more about the first Norse settlers and their distinct traditions, great medieval sagas and supernatural beliefs in the bultufólk (“hidden people” or elves) and the mystical “power places” in nature—echoes from the past that are still relevant in modern Icelandic culture.

Cruise along Iceland’s rugged coast and into the breathtaking West Fjords aboard the deluxe M.S. Le Boreal, a vessel offering state-of-the-art, deluxe amenities with personalized service in a welcoming and intimate setting. To be launched in 2010, this small ship provides a unique opportunity to cruise into remote areas and dock in small ports rarely visited by even the most experienced travelers.

Don’t miss this journey into the otherworldly wonders of Iceland for an unforgettable experience. Make your reservation before December 21, 2009, while Early Booking Savings are still available. Please join us!

Depart from the U.S.

REYKJAVIK, ICELAND

Wednesday, July 22
Arrive in Reykjavik, the world’s northernmost capital. More than half of the country’s total population of 300,000 lives in or near the city. The afternoon is at leisure, or you may opt to take an excursion to the Blue Lagoon, with time to rejuvenate in its famous geothermal seawater before the transfer to the M.S. Le Boreal for the Captain’s welcome reception and dinner.

ISAÐJÖRDUR

Thursday, July 23
Enjoy the morning cruise to the awe-inspiring West Fjords, docking in Isafjördur, a vibrant center of art and culture. See the ruggedly stunning mountains of the Djup, the dominating fjord of this extreme region. Stop at the open-air museum of Osvor to see a restored 19th-century “fishing outfit,” consisting of traditional fisherman’s huts and fishing equipment that paint a vivid picture of the lives of generations of coastal Icelanders. Then tour Isafjördur’s West Fjords Maritime Museum for insight into the climatic and geographical challenges faced by residents of this remote outpost.

GRIMSEY ISLAND / THE ARCTIC CIRCLE

Friday, July 24
Bisected by the Arctic Circle, Grimsey Island is the northernmost inhabited territory in Iceland. Visit the quaint Grimsey Church, built out of driftwood in 1867, and cross into the Arctic Circle. The island is treeless but green; despite its remote Arctic latitude, its weather is mild year round. You’ll see lush marshlands, grasses and mosses, as well as thriving populations of seabirds, especially auks. Their black and white coloring is similar to a penguin’s, but auks have the ability both to fly and dive, a distinct and rare differentiation.

AKUREYRI

Saturday, July 25
Rise early for the unforgettable approach to Akureyri, a charming fishing port nestled beneath the mountains of Eyjafjörður, one of Iceland’s longest fjords. Cross the fjord to Godafoss, “Waterfall of the Gods.” According to legend, this spectacular waterfall earned its name when an Icelandic chieftain threw wooden statues of his Norse gods into its crashing waters, signifying his conversion to Christianity. Continue to cerulean Lake Mývatn, a haven for Iceland’s bountiful wild ducks. Watch for the sleek harlequin duck and the black-and-white Barrow’s goldeneye, a species that nests nowhere else. Walk among the surreal lava formations of Dimmuborgir, the rocky basin of a former lava lake, and stop at Namaskard, a steaming field of boiling, sulfurous mud pots. The afternoon is at leisure in Akureyri, where you can visit the exceptional Botanical Gardens.

GRUNDAFJÖRDUR

Sunday, July 26
Cruise into the majestic fjord that borders Snæfellsnes Peninsula, a captivating landscape of lava caves, waterfalls, mineral hot springs, lush foliage, glacier-tipped mountains and unique natural formations that arose during the island’s active geologic history in the last Ice Age.

Cover: While the cause of their eruptions is unknown, geysers amid Iceland’s vast lava fields can shoot scalding water and steam hundreds of feet into the air.

Discover the sheer power and beauty of nature in Iceland, where cascading waterfalls and ethereal rainbows surround you in mystical splendor.
From the picturesque town of Grundarfjörður, set off for Snæfellsjökull, a gleaming glacier atop a dormant volcano, embodying the island's magnificent extremes of fire and ice. Here, explore views that inspired centuries of poets and writers, including Jules Verne, who in his novel Journey to the Center of the Earth chose the glacier as his doorway to inner space. In Arnarstapi and the small fishing village of Budir, see the natural phenomenon of black lava and unusual yellow sand coalesced into perfect formation.

HEIMAYEY ISLAND
Monday, July 27
Arrive at Heimaey Island, the tall cliffs of which are inhabited by puffin, fulmar and guillemot species of birds. Located on an active volcanic belt, the island experienced a sudden, traumatic volcanic eruption in 1973, which caused the formation of Mount Eldfell (“Fire Mountain”). See the lava fields, which are still warm to the touch almost 40 years later. Stop at the precipitous headland of Storholft to observe the largest puffin colony in Heimaey and to take in magnificent views of the glaciers on the mainland.

This evening, cruise around Surtsey Island, a UNESCO World Heritage site. Created during a series of volcanic eruptions between 1963 and 1968, it is the youngest island in the world and one of the most fragile as it is eroding very quickly into the ocean.

REYKJAVIK
Tuesday, July 28
Today, visit the “Golden Circle,” three of South Iceland's most renowned landmarks. Set off for Thingvellir National Park, the “assembly plain.” Here, in A.D. 930, settlers founded the legislative and judiciary hub of their Icelandic Commonwealth, arguably the world’s oldest parliament. Stroll through the dramatic rift valley where the Eurasian and North American continental plates are pulling apart and view the vast lava plain blooming with flowers and teeming with birdlife.

Listen to the cacophonous din and feel the sheer force of Gullfoss, the “Golden Waterfall,” where crystal clear glacial waters drop off at 96 feet, appearing to vanish into the earth. Visit the valley of Hankadher, famous for its geothermal waterspouts, including Geysir and Strokkur, a geyser that erupts approximately every five minutes. Stop at the Hellisheidi Geothermal Power Plant to learn more about harnessing this natural resource to provide low-cost heat and hot water.

REYKJAVIK U.S.
Wednesday, July 29
Depart Reykjavik and arrive in the U.S.

REYKJAVIK PRE-CRUISE OPTION
Before your cruise, spend one night in Reykjavik in the four-star Hotel Borg. Visit the vast Langjökull Glacier, the open-air Arbaer Museum and the National Museum. See the Pearl, a 10-story building that stores hot water and power for the area, an architectural wonder and a feat of engineering. Complete details will be provided with your cruise reservation confirmation.

GREENLAND POST-CRUISE OPTION

Extend your exploration of the far North and its geological phenomenon on our optional five-night Post-Cruise to remote Greenland, an island nearly covered by an ice cap that holds 10% of the world's total fresh water reserves. The ice in all its many forms is living art, dazzling in the light and mysterious in the fog—and suffused by an aura of unfathomable vastness.

Just south of the Arctic Circle, spend two nights in Tasiilaq, the largest community on Greenland’s east coast (population 1,800), and two nights in the isolated village of Kulusuk (population 300), spectacularly located on the craggy slopes of an ice-filled bay. East Greenland features some of the most spectacular scenery in the country, and its stunning peaks, dramatic fjords and giant glaciers have been described as a “dream landscape.”

This program includes the flight from Iceland, helicopter and boat transfers, an excursion to a glacier and guided walks amid extraordinary landscapes. Here, learn more about the daily life, history and traditional culture and religion of the Inuit people, nomadic hunters of Siberian descent, who settled here 5,000 years ago. The Inuit still form the largest part of Greenland’s population and live a very traditional way of life, including hunting and fishing for food and dog-sledding.

Come with us to the very edge of civilization: a world with deep links to its ancient culture and land, yet poised to make the most of modern innovations—a place simply unlike any other on earth. Complete details will be provided with your cruise reservation confirmation.

Soaring icebergs rise majestically from the waters surrounding Greenland, the largest island not considered a continent and home to some of the most striking scenery in the world.
