Dear Alumni & Friends:

Mysterious China. A land whose stunning beauty forms the backdrop to a 5,000-year-old civilization steeped in legend. Here, the people’s reverence for ancestral customs has been passed on through kingdoms and dynasties and preserved from one generation to the next, influencing life today as well as providing an impetus for change and a springboard for the future.

We invite you to join fellow alumni on this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to meet Julie Nixon Eisenhower, who will share her perspectives and firsthand accounts on the pivotal role her late father, President Richard M. Nixon, played in bringing Communist China out of isolation and reopening U.S. relations for the first time since 1949. Visit six UNESCO World Heritage sites on this comprehensive journey, traveling half the width of China and allowing for in-depth appreciation of the juxtaposition of its ancient culture with 21st-century advancements, from the imperial dignity of Mandarin Beijing and Tiananmen Square to the dynastic treasures of the ancient capital of Xi’an and the Three Gorges Dam, to the historic neighborhoods of Old Shanghai and the contrasting 21st-century architecture of Pudong across the river.

A highlight of the journey will be a six-night Grand Cruise along the fabled Yangtze River, sailing all the way from Chongqing downstream into stunning Shanghai through the magnificent Yangtze River Gorges aboard the exclusively chartered M.V. VICTORIA SOPHIA, the finest river ship cruising the entire course of the Yangtze. Cruise the magnificent Three Gorges and Three Lesser Gorges, and visit the engineering marvel of the Three Gorges Dam. See regions seldom visited by Westerners—Wuhan, settled more than 3,000 years ago by the Han Dynasty; Huangshan, famous for its majestic Yellow Mountain range, a UNESCO World Heritage site; and Nanjing, former capital of Imperial China.

This China travel offering is the most comprehensive program available to affinity travelers and includes specially selected, English-speaking, local experts and guides to accompany us; carefully selected, Five-Star hotel accommodations in the best locations, including the legendary Peace Hotel in Shanghai; opportunities to meet the fascinating people of China; and a historic eyewitness perspective on international relations with this country. China was an insular country, allowing only glimpses of cultural richness to the outside world via the Silk Road, which stoked the European’s imagination of exotic lands in the East. A mysterious land, one which Napoleon referred to as “a sleeping giant that would change the world when awoken,” the country finally lifted its shroud when President Richard Nixon visited in 1972. An eyewitness to the reopening of China and the introduction of its ancient traditions to the Western world, which vaulted it into its current progressive nation status, Julie Nixon Eisenhower represents the bridge to this spectacular transformation of the most populous, perhaps most culturally idiosyncratic nation on Earth.

Beijing, China

The former imperial city of Mongol, Ming and Manchu emperors, Beijing is one of China’s ancient citadels. Rich in historical sites and cultural relics, this dynamic city of more than 12 million people is the cultural and spiritual heart of the country and the ideal place from which to begin tracing the fascinating narrative of ancient China.

Walk through the immense, historic Tiananmen Square, the world’s largest public square, site of the mausoleum of modern China’s Founder, Mao Zedong.

Visit the ceremonial halls, royal apartments, gardens and temples of the Imperial Palace in the mystical Forbidden City, residence of Ming and Qing dynasty emperors for almost 500 years and a UNESCO World Heritage site.

The beautifully landscaped Summer Palace, a UNESCO World Heritage site, was the retreat of 19th-century Empress Dowager Cixi.

Julie Nixon Eisenhower, daughter of President Richard Nixon, was an eyewitness to her father’s groundbreaking diplomacy that led to the opening to China. She is a published author, editor and public speaker who has lectured widely throughout the United States on the presidency, leadership, women in politics and life in the White House. Julie is a board member of The China Institute. She and her husband, David Eisenhower had an extraordinary meeting with Mao Zedong on New Year’s Eve, 1975, and returned to China in 2002 to commemorate the 30th anniversary of the historic opening of China. From her unique perspective, Julie will explore why her father went to the People’s Republic of China and how that historic trip changed our world.

Walk through Cixi’s private apartments filled with jewel-encrusted furniture, and see her ornate Marble Boat. Then cruise by private boat across Kunming Lake’s tranquil waters.

Visit the magnificent Great Wall of China, the symbol of imperial grandeur since 500 B.C., constructed over the course of 2,000 years. This imposing fortification once spanned more than 3,500 miles. Walk along this UNESCO World Heritage site and see sweeping views of the scenic northern plains and valleys.

Tour the magnificent complex of religious buildings surrounding the extraordinary Temple of Heaven, a UNESCO World Heritage site.

Xi’an
Modern Xi’an was China’s thriving capital of emperors, courtiers, monks, merchants and soldiers for 11 dynasties; a place where many of the world’s great religions coexisted and the fabled launching point of the Silk Road, where camel caravans brought goods from the Eurasian continent and sent Chinese influence out to the world. From Xi’an’s distinctive, triple-eaved Bell and Drum Towers, watchmen once signaled dawn and dusk with a bell and a drum.

Visit the amazing 20th-century archaeological find and UNESCO World Heritage site: the famous life-size Terra Cotta Warriors—no two alike—have guarded the still-unopened tomb of China’s first emperor, Qin Shihuang, for more than 2,000 years. Also visit the exquisite Yangling Imperial Tomb, where thousands of captivating figurines excavated from the 2,100-year-old tomb of Emperor Liu Qi capture the essence of daily life during the Han Dynasty, a high point in Chinese history when culture and the arts flourished as never before.

Chongqing
Embar on your cruise down the fabled Yangtze River in the picturesque mountain city of Chongqing, which clings to the cliffs at the confluence of the Yangtze and Jialing rivers and served as a base for the famous Flying Tigers during World War II.

Grand Yangtze Cruise

Pass through Qutang Gorge, Wu Gorge and the spectacular Xiling Gorge. Aboard excursion boats, travel up the Daning River through the majestic scenery of the Three Lesser Gorges.

Beijing’s 600-year-old Forbidden City displays the splendor of the Ming and Qing emperors, known in Chinese lore as the “Sons of Heaven.”
Visit the massive Three Gorges Dam, the largest water conservancy project ever undertaken by man. Considered a key to China’s modernization, it is the world’s largest hydroelectric dam, 2,553 yards wide and 606 feet high.

Just beyond the city, visit the private retreat residence of Chairman Mao, the “Home of the White Clouds and Yellow Cranes.” It was here amidst the quiet ambiance of bamboo tree-lined footpaths, dense groves and flying songbirds, Chairman Mao conducted daily national affairs several times a year and gave an audience with celebrities and foreign dignitaries.

This historical center of booming tea trade produces almost 30 varieties of teas.

Nanjing
Beautiful Nanjing, near the lower Yangtze River, has twice served as China’s capital, first in the early years of the Ming dynasty (1368–1644) and as the capital of the Republic of China in the early 20th century. A Qing Dynasty-style Bazaar is still held surrounding the traditional Confucian Temple.

Shanghai
The exhilarating metropolis of Shanghai was the first of China’s cities to be influenced by the West. Today, its outstanding architectural landmarks along the famous Bund include the neoclassical Customs House and the China Merchants Bank building. Visit Old Shanghai’s street markets and classical Chinese gardens, and tour the famous Shanghai Museum of Art. The historic French Concession boasts distinctive European architecture, while 21st-century Pudong juxtaposes the ancient city. The Terra Cotta Warriors of Qin Shihuang

In 1974, near the ancient city of Xi’an, farmers digging a well unearthed one of the most amazing archaeological discoveries of the 20th century—an army of thousands of life-size terra cotta warriors and horses maintaining a silent vigil over the tomb of Emperor Qin Shihuang (259-210 B.C.). This visionary monarch, the first ruler of a unified China, introduced a standardized writing system, reformed the legal code and commenced the building of the Great Wall of China, the greatest public works project of its era. The emperor, as large a figure in death as he was in life, lies buried in a mausoleum that took 36 years to construct and required the efforts of 700,000 laborers. The tomb itself remains unexcavated, guarded by row upon row of charioteers, infantry, cavalry and horses. The face of each terra cotta warrior has a distinctive, lifelike expression, and each figure bears trappings denoting his rank within the imperial army—general, senior officer, junior officer or common soldier. In 1987, UNESCO designated this treasure trove of early Chinese art a World Heritage site.
