Architectural Prague

While Prague is a veritable museum of architectural achievement, its most recognizable landmarks are those that have stood the test of time: the Old Town and the Vltava River. Prague’s historic city center, the heart of the Lesser Town, is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The elegant Art Deco Imperial Hotel, Prague’s historic city center, the heart of the Lesser Town, is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The elegant Art Deco Imperial Hotel, located on Wenceslas Square, offers stunning views of the city’s skyline. The hotel’s Art Deco design is complemented by its strategically located theater, the Mucha Museum. The Mucha Museum is dedicated to the life and work of Czech artist Alphonse Mucha, who achieved fame for his Art Nouveau designs. The museum houses a collection of Mucha’s works, including posters, paintings, and sculptures. The museum is open daily from 10:00 to 18:00. Admission to the museum is free for all visitors.

Architectural Prague

While Prague is a virtual museum of architectural prowess, the Baroque influence is most pronounced in the 17th and 18th centuries, when Czech architects linked art and science, which had originated in 1590. Prague’s history of art and culture began in the 12th century when the Gothic capital was founded. The art and culture that followed, however, were marked by restrictive conditions. Many excursions in this program involve a UNESCO World Heritage site.
