The Enchanted Kingdom

The name of this land, the Kingdom of Bhutan, comes from the great legend of Dasho Tondup Wangchug, who inaugurated the tiny Buddhist nation in 1908. Its capital city, Thimphu, is enshrouded in the myth and mystique of an ancient Himalayan kingdom. From its seat of power, the King's Palace, you'll have a first-hand view of the country's rich cultural life. The magic begins with a pre-dinner welcome ceremony and cultural performance, including song and dance. Throughout your journey at the deluxe Four Seasons Bangkok, then journey at the deluxe Four Seasons Bangkok, then unwind in tranquil, family-owned Bhutanese accommodations, surrounded by waterfalls and lotus ponds. Be greeted with Bhutanese hospitality at this classic Bhutanese and modern architecture with a fitness center and a fitness center and a refreshing outdoor swimming pool. Dear Johns Hopkins Alumni and Friends,

Experience nirvana in Bhutan, a tiny kingdom the size of Switzerland with a population of only 750,000. Situated in the region of the Himalayas between India and China, this small and mountainous kingdom is a must-visit destination for anyone who wishes to immerse themselves in the rich culture and history of the world.

Bhutan is a land of ancient Buddhist traditions and natural beauty, with breathtaking mountain ranges and tranquil valleys. This incredible land is home to a diverse range of flora and fauna, including the rare snow leopard and the elusive takin, a species of wilduncle.
